Scenes from a Shelter is a comprehensive resource which includes a 30-minute, two-segment video, storybook, and discussion guide. The video depicts life in a shelter through the eyes of children and talks about domestic violence honestly and directly. Puppets are used to voice children's fears and to let children know that they are not alone or to blame, and that they can talk about how home makes them feel – no matter how confusing the feelings may be. The package includes an accompanying discussion guide and a beautifully illustrated storybook, I Do and I Don't, which helps children understand the feelings that result from living in a violent home.
